3. About Barcelona

Language

The official languages of Catalonia are Spanish and Catalan. However, Barcelona is a multicultural city where you can easily speak in English or French.

Currency

The official currency is the Euro (€). It is not common to accept other currencies in cash in Barcelona. However, you can pay easily with a credit card, and ATMs are easily found throughout the city centre, as well as at the Barcelona Airport. There is also a 'Change Money' service close to the University of Barcelona.

Shops and malls

The opening hours of shops and malls are typically 9.30 h – 21:00 h (with variations depending on the area). Although these are the regular opening hours, you can find restaurants and stores open all day in more touristy areas. Lunchtime in the city usually is between 13.30 pm and 15.30 pm and dinner between 20:00 h and 22.30 h. During the conference, lunchtime will be 12:45 to 14:30.

Useful emergency numbers

112 All emergencies
092 Local police
061 Medical emergencies

What to wear and bring

In May, the weather in Barcelona varies, which can offer everything from sunny days to clouds and rainfall, although usually, you will find more sunny days than rainy. At this time of year, the temperature ranges from 18 to 25 degrees. You can check the weather here.

Health and safety

Check information about travelling to Spain to know more about requirements depending on your country of origin. You can also consult other practical information about protocols for COVID-19 when travelling to Catalonia. For COVID-19 test appointments, you can request it online here.

It is the responsibility of each participant to have insurance to cover expenses in case of accidents or illness. The organizers will in no case cover the cost of insurance or any costs associated with these eventualities. For medical services, Hospital Clínic is a public hospital close to La Fira Montjuic, and Hospital Quirón is a private hospital. Public hospitals in Barcelona are of high quality.

Security

Barcelona is no more dangerous in terms of theft than any other large European city. However, please keep an eye on your bags and wallets and never put your bag on the back of a chair, on the table in a bar, etc. Take special care in the Metro and bus.

Socket

In Spain, the standard voltage is 230 V, and the frequency is 50 Hz. The plugs and sockets are type F (see figure below). Be sure to bring a proper adaptor to plug in your electronic equipment as needed.

4. Getting around Barcelona – City/Public transport

Walking: Barcelona is perfect and well prepared for walking, and it is the best way to visit the centre: The Old Town, streets in the Gothic Quarter, Barceloneta and the beach, the fantastic Palau de la Musica Catalana, La Sagrada Familia, Casa Batlló, La Pedrera, El Born district and La Ciutadella Parc.

Buses and Metro: the Metro is the best and fastest way to move around. You can buy a 24h unlimited ticket, T-DAY (ten trips for 10,50€) or a single ticket (2,40€) that you can buy on the bus or in the metro, with your credit card or cash. All metro tickets can be combined with the bus and train network.

Remember that public transport is the most sustainable system! See Barcelona public transportation website for detailed information. For more general sightseeing, we recommend the Tour Bus, which has two different routes and visits all the highlights of Barcelona.

Otherwise, taxis are easy to find throughout the city. Other companies such as Cabify or Freenow are also available in the city through their telephone apps.

For detailed information about routes, visits, tickets, etc. visit the Consortium of Tourism website.

5. Hotel Accommodation

For those attending in-person in Barcelona, participants (including panellists) are expected to cover their own expenses for travelling, lodging and all related costs.

Barcelona presents a great offer of hotels nearby La Fira, where you could reach the venue within walking distance. However, as the city is hosting some relevant events in May, it may be possible that those hotels have reached their maximum capacity. If that is the case, please, consider that hotels in Barcelona from three stars are of good quality and La Fira is very well connected by public transport.
